From WCU President Dr. R. Lorraine Bernotsky

To Our Golden Rams Players, Coaches, Fans and Friends:

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the fall 2026 season of Golden Rams football! As I begin my third fall athletics season as president of West Chester University, I continue to be impressed by the dedication of our student-athletes. They balance the demands of their academic work with practices, competition, campus involvement, and the many other responsibilities that come with being a college student. Their commitment, discipline, and teamwork represent some of the very best of West Chester University.

Golden Rams athletics is an important part of the WCU experience and a tremendous source of pride for our University community. Students, alumni, families, faculty, staff, and friends all share in a remarkable tradition of athletic excellence. West Chester is home to one of the largest NCAA Division II athletic programs in the nation and, more importantly, one of its most successful.

As a member of the NCAA Division II, West Chester University strives to comply with all rules and regulations set forth by the national governing body of intercollegiate athletics. Our athletes are amateurs, who compete to enhance their educational experiences. Our coaches, administrators, student athletes, and all those associated with the University's athletic program are dedicated to promoting good sportsmanship.

I am especially grateful to our coaches, staff, families, and friends who support our student-athletes throughout the season and help them succeed both on and off the field. And to our Golden Rams fans, thank you for the energy, enthusiasm, and pride you bring to every game.

Whether you have been cheering for the Golden Rams for many years or are joining us for the first time, I am glad you are here. I hope you enjoy another exciting season of West Chester University football, and I look forward to seeing you at the games!

Yours,

Laurie

Laurie Bernotsky

University and Athletic Administration

University President Dr. R. Lorraine Bernotsky

Dr. R. Lorraine (Laurie) Bernotsky was unanimously named the 16th president of West Chester University by the Board of Governors of Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education (PASSHE), effective July 1, 2024. A longstanding champion for public education and State System students, Dr. Bernotsky is a first-generation college graduate who leads the largest *R2 institution within Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education. Prior to being named president, Dr. Bernotsky held the position of interim president of Pennsylvania Western University (PennWest) as a loaned executive from West Chester University. Known for being a transformative leader in higher education, Dr. Bernotsky is prepared to help West Chester University chart its path toward the next 150 years.

As a collaborative and inclusive leader who is centered on student success, Dr. Bernotsky holds nearly three decades of progressive experience in higher education. She began her career at West Chester University in 1996 as a member of the political science faculty. When the opportunity opened to serve as associate provost and dean of graduate studies at West Chester University, she competed in a national search for the role and served for several years before becoming provost in 2015.

As West Chester University's provost, Dr. Bernotsky successfully led the University's Academic Affairs Division, which oversees approximately 850 faculty and is comprised of six colleges, as well as two schools, that offers more than 100 academic degree programs while also housing the Office of Institutional Research, the Center for International Programs (now the Center for Global Engagement), the offices of undergraduate admissions, enrollment management, financial aid, the graduate school, and undergraduate student support services.

Executive vice president was added to Dr. Bernotsky's role in 2017 and, as the University's second-in-command, she also assumed leadership of the University's budget and labor relations function.

Recognized throughout the Commonwealth as a highly respected and effective higher education leader, Dr. Bernotsky was asked by Chancellor Daniel Greenstein to serve PennWest temporarily in the fall of 2022 as executive vice president and chief operating officer, providing guidance and direction in all operational areas. From October 2022 through June 2023, Dr. Bernotsky worked collaboratively in this loaned capacity to help strengthen PennWest's operational excellence, strategic enrollment management systems, and long-term plans for financial sustainability. The positive effects of Dr. Bernotsky's work ultimately led to her appointment as interim president of PennWest on July 1, 2023 by PASSHE's Board of Governors; she assumed the role four months after her appointment as PennWest's acting president and following the retirement of PennWest founding president, Dr. Dale-Elizabeth Pehrsson.

Director of Athletics Terry Beattie

Terry Beattie begins his 10th athletic campaign as the Director of Athletics at West Chester University and 20th overall as a member of the Golden Rams' athletic department. Previous to being named the Interim AD in 2017, Beattie served as the Associate AD overseeing facilities and game day operations. He also oversaw all of the grounds and equipment room operations for the athletic department.

A 34-year veteran in college athletics, was most recently named chair of the NCAA Division II Championships Committee, which is responsible for overseeing the structure and administration of DII national championships across the association's sports. Its duties include setting championship formats and selection criteria, determining and awarding host sites, reviewing bracket sizes and access ratios, managing championship budgets and ensuring competitive equity and consistent policy across all Division II member institutions.

In his nine years as the university's athletics director, Beattie created a Sports Performance aspect to the athletic department implementing additional resources from which WCU student-athletes could benefit. His collaboration with a number of other areas on campus gives student-athletes access to mental health and sport psychology experts, an expanded and much improved strength and conditioning program as well as education on sport nutrition.

His work in the field of Sport Leadership Training gives West Chester University's coaching staff and administrators access to some of the cutting edge research on how to become a better leader, coach and mentor to young adults.

He has also served on a number of strategic planning committee's both within the athletic department and in conjunction with the university. During his previous 14 years in Southeastern Pennsylvania, Beattie has chaired search committees to replace head coaches and assistant athletic directors while coordinating scheduling for West Chester University's numerous athletic facilities. He has also served on search committees on the university side.

Beattie supervised the athletic department's nine on-campus facilities, including both John A. Farrell Stadium and Serpico Stadium as well as Vonnie Gros Field.

A member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), Beattie was named the chair of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) Athletic Administrators for the 2023-24 campaign.

About West Chester University

West Chester University, a member of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education, is a public, regional, comprehensive institution committed to providing access and offering high-quality undergraduate education, select post-baccalaureate and graduate programs, and a variety of educational and cultural resources for its students, alumni and citizens of southeastern Pennsylvania.

West Chester University is committed to attracting, enrolling and graduating quality students from a wide variety of educational, cultural and economic backgrounds. This endeavor requires the University to attract and retain highly qualified faculty and staff and to provide each member of the University community with learning and leadership development opportunities. To this end, the University supports and encourages programs which benefit all people and which seek to eradicate discrimination and injustice. We treasure what we believe to be the highest principles of American society: the worth and uniqueness of each individual, the belief that success is to be earned by individual effort put forth in an environment founded on equality of opportunity, and the appreciation of the ideal of an inclusive society.

We believe that it is incumbent upon all members of our community - staff, students, faculty and administrators - to conduct themselves with civility toward one another at all times. We value the special talents and contributions of each member of our community. We further affirm the worth and dignity of each member and the shared responsibility of all to treat each other as individuals, with respect and courtesy.

As a university owned by the citizens of Pennsylvania, we value our mission to provide the best educational opportunities possible which will enable the University community to successfully address the concerns of a global society. To this end, West Chester University seeks to provide diligent advising for students and to focus on teaching students to think clearly and critically, to make logical and ethical judgments, and to communicate effectively with others.

West Chester University's community strongly supports the principles of academic integrity and academic responsibility, viewing both as the province of every member of the campus community. We hold the highest esteem for teaching directed toward student learning and affirm that mastery of content as well as mastery of teaching skills necessary to communicate such content are paramount.

As a university owned by the citizens of Pennsylvania, we value our mission to provide the best educational opportunities possible which will enable the University community to successfully address the concerns of a global society.

West Chester University will be a national model for excellence for public regional comprehensive universities and is especially noted for:

l Undergraduate programs that actively engage students in connecting the life of the mind to the world in which they live and work.

l The responsiveness of its graduate and post-baccalaureate programs to regional needs.

l Its focus on providing lifelong-learning, technical, and applied skills essential to graduates' success now and in the future.

l A commitment by faculty, staff, and administrators to provide access and to serve effectively the educational needs of a diverse student body.

l Its role as a leading educational and cultural resource and partner in fostering the economic, social, and cultural vitality of southeastern Pennsylvania.

The Legacy of Dr. W. Glenn Killinger

Dr. W. Glenn Killinger's name is synonymous with West Chester University. In 36 years of teaching, coaching and administration, "Killy," as he was affectionately called by his many friends, built a level of success that made him nationally known.

A 1921 All-America quarterback and halfback at Penn State, Dr. Killinger came to West Chester in 1934 to teach in the Department of Health and Physical Education, and to be the head coach of the football, baseball and basketball programs. His service to West Chester included duties as "Dean of Mean" from 1935 until he retired in 1970.

Among his many honors, Dr. Killinger was nominated to the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame in 1964, the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame in 1966, and the Coaches Hall of Fame by the American Association of College Baseball Coaches in 1970.

In 37 years as a head football coach, his only losing season was a 1-7 record at Rensselaer in 1927. His team came back the following year with a 7-1 record. At West Chester, he never had a losing season, winning 146 games, losing just 39 and tying 12. Highlights included four undefeated teams (1945, 1947, 1952, 1957), trips to four bowl games (winning two) and six Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference games.

Dr. Killinger had an equally impressive record as a baseball coach, winning 340 games, putting him among the top 40 coaches in major college baseball. Amazingly, in his 32 years as West Chester's head baseball coach, Dr. Killinger had only one losing season.

A native of Harrisburg, Pa., Dr. Killinger was a graduate of the Harrisburg Technical School. After learning he was too young to enlist for military service, he entered Penn State in 1917, and received a bachelor's degree in metallurgical engineering in 1922. He went on to receive his master's degree in health and physical education in 1933 from Columbia University.

As an undergraduate at Penn State, he received nine varsity letters in football, baseball and basketball. He served as captain of both the football and basketball squads.

In 1921, the triple-threat quarterback become Penn State's first All-America football player. He was also given the supreme honor of being named "Back of the Year" by Walter Camp on his first team.

After Penn State, he spent a brief stint at Dickinson College as its head football coach before returning to his alma mater as the backfield coach from 1923-26, as the only assistant under Hugo Bezdek, who coached Killinger during his playing days. Killinger also served as the head baseball coach.

Following the 1926 season, Killinger accepted the position of head football coach at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and would remain there until 1932. He spent the 1932-33 season at Moravian College as the head football, basketball and baseball coach.

Killinger played professional baseball with Jersey City of the International League in 1922, and with Atlanta of the Southern Association in 1923. He then played and managed at Harrisburg, Shamokin and Williamsport of the New York-Penn League and with Allentown of the Eastern League from 1924-32.

From 1942-45, Killinger served in the United Stated Navy, earning the rank of Commander, U.S.N.R., before being honorably discharged. While in North Carolina Flight School, Killinger coached the football team to a surprising 21-14 victory over the U.S. Naval Academy – then-ranked No. 1 in the nation – in 1944. Under his expert tutelage, future hall of famer Otto Graham was converted into a T-formation quarterback.

One writer quoted Killinger as saying, "Winning isn't everything. It's the only thing. But you must do it within the rules, otherwise, you haven't really won." Noted as a stickler for perfection, another writer said, "He never liked to do anything he didn't know anything about. He knows the rules. He studied them inside and out, backward and forward."

Killinger believed that excellence was earned by hard work and by setting high stands. "We have certain standards set up for our players," he said. "They must meet them. We don't ask the impossible. But they must continue to develop towards their fullest capabilities not just one year but all the seasons they play football for us or they're out."

As evidence of the admiration and respect shown by West Chester students, the 1958 Serpentine was dedicated to him. On October 25, 1968, Killinger Hall was named in his honor. Killinger passed away July 25, 1988. He was 89.

Head Coach Duke Greco

Charles "Duke" Greco begins his third season on the sideline of West Chester University's football program as the 17th head coach in school history. He is coming off a 4-7 campaign as the Golden Rams' mentor. In his first two years at the helm, he has guided the gridiron gang to a 8-13 mark.

Greco amassed an astounding 91-15 record with postseason berths each year, including six NCAA appearances, three trips to the NCAA quarterfinals, six consecutive (2017-2018-2019-2021-2022-2023) Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) championships, two Centennial-MAC Bowl Series championships, and four MAC Coach of the Year honors. The Aggies finished the 2023 regular season 9-1 overall and a perfect 9-0 in conference play, extending their win-streak against MAC teams to 53 straight. The streak is the longest in the 70-year history of MAC football and dates back to the 2016 season. Additionally, five Aggies were named D3football.com All-Region 1 at the end of the season.

The 2022 season marked the second time DelVal hosted an NCAA quarterfinal game during Greco's tenure. The Aggies tied the program record with 12 wins to just one loss and capped another undefeated regular season with their fifth consecutive MAC title. Delval would continue their dominance in the first round of the NCAA Tournament with a 59-0 win over Gallaudet. In the second round, the Aggies won a thrilling 39-32 showdown against #14 Randolph Macon. The Aggie's only loss of the season would come in the quarterfinals of the NCAA playoffs against the number two team in the country, Mount Union. Greco would lead one of the best defensive units in the country during the 2022 season. The DelVal defense led the way with only 13 touchdowns surrendered all year and 9.15 points per game against. The Aggies saw three individuals earn All-America honors including defensive end Michael Nobile who earned the program's first National Player of the Year accolade. 17 Aggies were named to all-conference teams and seven earned All-Region.

The 2021 season proved to be another remarkable year for the Aggies, as Greco and his staff led the team to an 11-1 mark, including their fourth consecutive MAC championship. DelVal ran through the regular season at 10-0, including an 8-0 record in conference play. After defeating Anna Maria 62-10 in the first round of the NCAA tournament, the Aggies fell at home to Muhlenberg 14-0 and their season came to an end. The Aggies outscored opponents 443-81 and their defense ranked first in the country in nine different categories, while finishing in the top ten in five others.

In 2019, the Aggies were back in the NCAA quarterfinals after going 11-1 in the regular season with another unblemished 8-0 mark in MAC play. The magical run came to an end after DelVal flew to the outskirts of Chicago and suffered a heartbreaking, 31-14, defeat at the eventual Division III National Champions North Central College. The squad won 10-straight games that year, including eight MAC contests and two NCAA road playoff games, and outscored conference opponents 317-72.

The eight conference victories extended the program's win-streak against MAC opponents to 28 games, a new all-time conference record, and a streak that dates back to the 2016 season. Individually, a program-record five players earned All-Region and All-American honors, and sophomore defensive end Michael Nobile was named the MAC Defensive Player of the Year for the second time while Greco earned his second Coach of the Year award from the league. A total of 17 players earned all-MAC nods and 25 were on the MAC Academic Honor Roll.

For the 2018 season, Greco and his staff entered conference play 1-1 after a loss to nationally-ranked Wesley. From there, the squad ripped off eight straight conference victories by a combined score of 299-77. The Aggies finished the regular-season ranked 13th in one national poll and fourth in the East Region. They hosted Muhlenberg College in the first round of the NCAA playoffs, but fell in heartbreak fashion on a late fourth quarter pick-six.

A total of 16 players were named to the all-MAC squad including Defensive Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year, freshman defensive end, Michael Nobile. Nobile, his twin brother Anthony, and tight end Dan Allen received all-East Region accolades with Michael and Allen going on to become All-Americans.

The 2017 campaign was one of coach Greco's finest to date, and one of the best season's in program history. The completed a perfect 10-0 regular season that was capped with a conference championship. The Aggies were selected as a top seed in one of the NCAA brackets and won a pair of home games to reach the quarterfinals. They nearly reached the semifinals for the first time in program history, but fell on a last-second field goal. The team tied a school record with 12 wins as well as a number five ranking during the season.

The accolades poured in for Greco and his players for the 2017 campaign. Nineteen Aggies were named to the all-conference team while Devauntay Ellis was named the MAC Offensive Player of the Year. Five players received all-region accolades with Stephen Adams and Shawn Miller going on to earn All-America accolades. Twenty-two players were named to the MAC's academic honor roll with five picking up Academic All-Area honors and one named to the all-district team while being added to the Academic All-American ballot. For Greco, he was selected as the MAC Coach of the Year and the Maxwell Football Club Tri-State Coach of the Year.

Greco's other NCAA appearance came in his first year as head coach as the 2014 edition won its first nine games, played for the MAC championship in the final game of the regular season and earned an at-large berth and a home game in the playoffs. Eleven players were named to the all-conference team, including wide receiver Rasheed Bailey, who was the MAC Offensive Player of the Year. Bailey was named to three separate All-America Teams and later signed a free agent contract with the NFL's Philadelphia Eagles

(he is currently with the Winnipeg Bombers of the CFL).

In both 2015 and 2016, Greco led DelVal to a 9-2 record and victories in the Centennial-MAC Bowl Series. Thirty-two Aggies received all-MAC accolades over those two years with one first-team All-American in Rashaad Lighty.

Prior to becoming head coach, Greco had an 11-year stint as an assistant coach at his alma mater, including eight as the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator.

In Greco's eight years as the offensive coordinator at DelVal, the Aggies won four MAC championships and reached the second round of the NCAA Division III playoffs three times. The four MAC titles were from 2008 to 2011 as DelVal was one of just five football teams in the 100-year history of the conference to notch four or more consecutive championships. They also captured a pair of Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Bowl championships.

Greco began his coordinator stint in 2006 and worked a rookie quarterback into the system. The result was an eight-win season with three offensive players earning all-MAC honors. The next year, five players were named to the all-conference team.

In 2008, the team posted 25 and 41 points in upset wins over the No. 3 and 6 teams in the country. Three players grabbed all-MAC honors with quarterback Mike Isgro also being named the MAC Offensive Player of the Year.

The Aggies were even better in '09 as they averaged 30.7 points per game, including a then school-record 66 in the NCAA playoff win over Susquehanna.

The next year, DelVal averaged 31.3 points and 414.4 yards per game. Eight offensive players were named to the all-conference team while tailback Matt Cook was named the MAC Offensive Player of the Year.

2011 was, perhaps, Greco's greatest challenge as he had to replace nearly the entire starting offensive unit, including the quarterback, running back, two wide receivers and four offensive linemen. He worked a rookie quarterback into the system from day one and DelVal went on to average 35 points and nearly 440 yards per game while reaching the second round of the NCAA playoffs.

In 2012, the team averaged 34.1 points and 460.5 yards per game while five offensive players were all-conference picks. The next year saw eight offensive players named to the all-MAC team as the unit averaged 30.8 points and 425.9 yards per contest.

Greco coached various positions with DelVal from 2002 to 2004, including in '04 as the Aggies won the MAC title and reached the NCAA quarterfinals.

Greco first joined the staff after finishing his playing days as one of DelVal's all-time leading passers. Despite playing just 20 games at quarterback (he started his career as a defensive back), Greco graduated as the school's second all-time leading passer with 299 completions, 3,974 yards and 41 touchdowns.

Greco earned second team all-MAC honors in 2001 as he shattered all DelVal single-season records with 2,405 yards and 28 touchdowns (since broken). His 369 yards in a loss to Lebanon Valley was the second-highest, single-game total at the time and it still stands fourth on the list. Greco was also a threat to run and finished the '01 campaign with 172 yards and a team-best five rushing touchdowns.

Greco graduated in 2003 with a bachelor of arts degree in sports management.

WCU and Millersville Renew Rivalry on Homecoming

Fresh off a 44-24 thrashing of Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) Western Division foe, Edinboro, last Saturday, the Golden Rams return to Tomlinson-Fillippo Field at Farrell Stadium for Homecoming Weekend and its conference opener against Millersville University.

West Chester (2-1) enters Homecoming Weekend with a winning, or .500, record for the 18th time in the last 20 years and welcomes Millersville on Homecoming for the second time in three seasons. The Golden Rams are 14-6 on Homecoming since 2005. In fact, the purple & gold authored an eight-year winning streak on the special weekend in the fall from 2013 to 2024. Last year's loss to East Stroudsburg put an end to that run of success.

HONORED GOLDEN RAMS

Two Golden Rams grabbed weekly honors as a result of their contributions to Saturday's win. R-Jr., QB, Colin O'Sullivan was named the PSAC East Offensive Player of the Week while R-So., PK, Tommy Pajic was named the PSAC East Special Teams Player of the Week.

O'Sullivan finished 14-for-19 for 231 yards and two touchdown passes without any interceptions.

O'Sullivan also added a rushing TD. When the dust had settled on the Golden Rams' win, O'Sullivan led West Chester to a score on eight of its nine offensive possessions. He completed 73.7 percent of his passes and posted a 210.5 QB rating for the game.

Pajic went 3-for-3 on field goal attempts and 5-for-5 on extra-point attempts to finish the afternoon with 14 points in West Chester's win over Edinboro. Pajic hit a career-high 45-yarder in the fourth quarter. He also was good on a 31-yarder in the fourth and a 20-yarder in the third. All of that was accomplished after being pressed into service when the Rams' starting place-kicker was sidelined with an illness and could not make the trip to Western PA. Pajic also put three of his nine kickoffs into the end zone for touch backs on the day. He averaged over 58 yards per kickoff.

Pajic's honor marked the second week in a row that a Golden Rams player earned the PSAC East Special Teams player of the week. Bryan Anderson was recognized last week for his 66-yard touchdown return of a blocked field goal attempt against IUP.

THE MOST FAMILIAR OF FOES

West Chester and Millersville meet for the 93rd time in the all-time series and the 72nd consecutive year dating back to 1954. With the initial meeting between the two rivals coming in 1921, it is also the oldest rivalry on the books. West Chester's 74 wins are the most against any opponent in Golden Rams' history. West Chester has won 21 of the last 22 encounters with Millersville.

GOLDEN RAMS STINGY ON DEFENSE

West Chester brings the PSAC's third-ranked defensive unit into Saturday's showdown. The Golden Rams are allowing just 21.3 points per game and 275 total yards per game as well. Unfortunately, for Millersville, the Marauders rank last in the PSAC in both scoring offense and scoring defense. West Chester's stop unit should be featured in this matchup and should make things difficult on Millersville's young offense.

NEXT UP

West Chester will travel to East Stroudsburg next weekend for a 1:05 p.m. kickoff at Eiler-Martin Stadium.

2026-27 West Chester University Cheerleaders

From late August through early-to-mid March each school year, West Chester University's cheerleaders are front and center at all Golden Rams football games in the fall and both men's and women's basketball games in the winter. Additionally, West Chester University's cheerleaders have traveled to Orlando, Fla., and the Wide World of Sports in January to compete in the UCA Nationals. The Golden Rams Cheer Squad placed among the top five at UCA Nationals in each of the past four years, including a national championship effort in 2024 and a runner-up performance in 2023.

The cheerleaders work hard in the preseason learning mostly new material for the upcoming campaign, conditioning and developing a pride in the West Chester University community. Aside from preparing their 39-member team for the year ahead, the West Chester University cheerleaders also host high school clinics in order to develop cheerleading around the area.

The West Chester University cheerleaders take on many community service projects focusing mainly on breast cancer awareness, as well as doing many youth and high school cheering clinics, donating to needy schools and volunteering with the elderly within the West Chester community.

The team also makes many public appearances as representatives of WCU, highlighted each holiday season with a spot in the borough's annual Christmas Parade.

WCU's Incomparable Marching Band

With a proud and distinguished history that dates back to 1889, the 324-member "INCOMPARABLE" Golden Rams Marching Band continues to delight audiences with its innovative and inspiring performances.

The Golden Rams Marching Band performs regularly at WCU football games, exhibition events throughout the region, and special events for the university and community. In addition to performances at National Football League events and World Series games, the group has also twice performed at the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. The Golden Rams Marching Band is proud to perform regularly at Bands of America Regional and National Events. Most recently, the Golden Rams performed in featured exhibition at the 2018 Bands of America Grand National Championships in Indianapolis, Indiana. Last January, the "INCOMPARABLE" Golden Rams Marching Band was featured in the Tournament of Roses Parade as well as the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif.

The West Chester University INCOMPARABLE Golden Rams Marching Band has been selected as the recipient of the 2019 Sudler Trophy! Presented by the John Philip Sousa Foundation, the Sudler Trophy is awarded bi-annually to a college or university marching band which has demonstrated the highest musical standards and innovative marching routines and ideas, and which has made important contributions to the advancement of the performance standards of college marching bands over a number of years. WCU is the first Division II school in history to receive this prestigious honor!
