// Opening Kickoff //

Today's Centennial Conference (CC) opener marks the 111th meeting between Gettysburg (2-1, 0-0 CC) and Franklin & Marshall (3-0, 0-0 CC) in a series that dates back to 1890. The Diplomats have won the last nine meetings to take a 55-48-7 lead in the all-time series. The last Bullets win was a 21-7 victory in 2015.

WHEN LAST WE MET: Trailing 28-27, Franklin & Marshall score the go-ahead touchdown and two-point conversation with 7:07 to play and the defense held for a 35-28 win over Gettysburg in the Centennial Conference opener for both teams last season. Michael Zrelak led the Bullets with 26 rushes for 153 yards and a touchdown. Ty Tremba led the Diplomats with 317 passing yards, completing 23 of 31 passes with three touchdowns.

LAST TIME OUT: Gettysburg was idle last week. Two weeks ago, Gettysburg hit a trio of long touchdown passes to help defeat Western Connecticut, 34-28. Danny Bonato (Rockville, Md./Good Counsel) had his first multiple-touchdown game for the Bullets, scoring on a 26-yard pass play and a one-yard run. He finished the day with three catches for 52 yards. Sean Clark (Randolph, N.J./Randolph) completed 22 of 33 passes for a career-high 354 yards and three touchdowns. Dylan Jackson completed 16 of 26 passes for 228 yards and a touchdown to lead the Wolves.

GAME NOTES

LEADING THE WAY: Sean Clark (Randolph, N.J./Randolph) and Ryan Weems (Plant City, Fla./Strawberry Crest) will captain the squad in 2025. Both are first-time captains. It is just the second time since 2019 that the Bullets have had just two captains for a season.

HEAD OF THE CLASS: Isaac Parks-Gill (Lewistown, Pa./Mifflin County) was named the Centennial Conference Special Teams Player of the Week for the second straight week. Parks-Gill hit another two field goals and connected on all four PATs. He hit field goals from 27 and 28 yards.

OPENING STATEMENTS: Gettysburg had dropped its previous six CC openers until back-to-back wins over McDaniel in 2023 and 2024. The Bullets are 20-22 all-time in CC lidlifters after a loss last season. Last season marked the first time the Bullets and Diplomats started the conference slate instead of ending it. The two seasons of openers against the Green Terror marked the first time that happened since 2006. The two rivals squared off in CC lidlifters for the first 24 years of the league with Gettysburg holding a slight 13-11 advantage before four straight openers against Johns Hopkins (1-3). Nine straight years of opening against Ursinus followed the Bullets going 4-5 before Moravian defeated Gettysburg in the opener in 2021 and 2022.

LINCOLN FOOTBALL TROPHY: For the 100th meeting between Gettysburg and Franklin & Marshall in 2015, a new award was created to commemorate the occasion. The two institutions and surrounding communities are connected by one stretch of road, Route 30, better known as the Lincoln Highway. Local historian and woodworker Bill Hewitt molded the trophy, which resembles President Abraham Lincoln's stovepipe hat. Pieces of the wood were from two "witness trees" that stood tall during the Battle of Gettysburg in 1863. A bullet from the battle was found within one of the trees and has been embedded within the trophy itself, safely ensconced under hat.

TWO OUT OF THREE AIN'T BAD: The Bullets recorded two wins in September for the first time since 2015 when Gettysburg started the year 5-0 en route to a 7-3 campaign. In the 2-1 start to the year, the Bullets have only trailed for 5 minutes, 28 seconds in the first three games combined. Washington and Lee scored the go-ahead touchdown with 28 seconds to play in regulation. Western Connecticut scored first a week later, finding the end zone with 2:19 to play in the first quarter. Gettysburg responded and took the lead with 12:19 to play in the second quarter.

300-LEVEL COURSE: Sean Clark notched his second career 300-yard passing day the last time out. The senior completed 22 of 33 passes for a career-high 354 yards. He also had three touchdown passes. Clark is the leading passer in the conference this season, averaging 268.7 yards per game. He is completing a CC-best 67 percent of his passes. On the year, he is 63-for-94 for 806 yards with eight touchdown passes and just one interception.

AIRING IT OUT: Gettysburg enters this weekend as the top pass offense in conference, averaging 268.7 yards per game through the air. The Bullets' passing attack has gotten more potent each week and has thrown for more than 200 yards in each of the first three games. With 63 completed passes in the first three games and 806 total yards, the aerial attack is ripping off plays at 12.8-yard-per-play clip.

GOING DEEP: The offense has generated 16 plays of 20 or more yards through the first three games of the year. Of those 16, 14 have come through the air – and half of those were in the last outing against Western Connecticut. Six different players have a reception of 20 or more yards this season, including four by Shane Donoghue (Hillsborough, N.J./Hillsborough) and three by Gabriel Diaz. Diaz, Danny Bonato and Edison Case (Reading, Pa./Wilson) all hauled in touchdown passes of 26 or more yards against the Wolves.

KICKIN' IT: Isaac Parks-Gill made another two field goals in the last outing and currently leads the conference with five made field goals in three games. He is the leading scorer in the conference among kickers, averaging 8.0 points per game. He has nine made extra points to go with his five field goals.

DEFENSIVE MINDED: Gettysburg has the best pass defense in the conference through three games, allowing just 122.3 yards per game through the air. The first two opponents combined to throw for just 139 against the Bullets before Western Connecticut threw for 228 yards. Opponents are completing just 48.6 percent of their passes against the Gettysburg secondary. The 367 total passing yards allowed is nearly 150 fewer than any other team in the conference.

IN THE RED: The Bullets have converted on more than 73 percent of their trips to the red zone in the first three games. The team has 15 trips in two games, converting 11 of those trips into points that has included six touchdowns. The 15 red zone trips are tied for the most in the conference while the 11 conversions are second only to Franklin & Marshall.

BULLET POINTS: The Bullets have had nine drives over the first three games that have lasted nine or more plays. Seven of those nine resulted in points while the other two resulted in missed field goals... Gettysburg has allowed just six first-half points this season... Opponents have scored 42 of their 62 points against the Bullets in the fourth quarter.

COACHES' CORNER: Michael Green is in his first year as Gettysburg head coach, entering today's game with a record of 1-1. A Hobart alumnus, he coached at his alma mater since graduating in 2014. An offensive lineman during his playing days, he mentored that group until 2021 before taking control of the defense. In his five seasons in charge of the Statesmen defense, he mentored 28 All-Liberty League selections, four all-region players, three All-Americans and two Liberty League Defensive Players of the Year. In each of the last two seasons, his unit has paced the Liberty League in total defense. His 2025 group allowed just 271.9 yards per game, which ranked 30th in Division III, and surrendered 17 or fewer points in seven of the team's 11 games. In Green's 15 seasons with Hobart, the Statesmen had a winning season each year. His Hobart teams went 34-8 in his four years as a player with three Liberty League championships and three straight NCAA appearances that included a trip to the national quarterfinals in 2012... Michael Phelan was elevated to head coach on Feb. 17, 2025 as the 40th head coach in program history. He enters today's game with a record of 12-2 and won the conference title in his first year at the helm last season. Phelan spent the previous three seasons on the Diplomats' staff as the defensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator. Phelan helped F&M climb the conference standings each of the past three seasons, headlined by back-to-back postseason victories in the Centennial-MAC Bowl Series. Since assuming the role of defensive coordinator when he first joined the staff for the 2022 season, Phelan's unit has consistently ranked among the top defenses in Division III. The F&M defense ranked fourth in Division III in yards allowed per game (227.1) last season while allowing just 13.1 points per game. The Diplomats were also seventh nationally in first downs allowed (143) and ninth in rushing yards allowed per game (62.3). Phelan joined the F&M staff after spending three years coaching at his alma mater, St. Lawrence. Prior to St. Lawrence, Phelan served as a graduate assistant with Castleton for the 2017 and 2018 seasons.

DEPTH CHART

The Diplomats entered the bye week off 31-17 win at Catholic. Franklin & Marshall jumped out to a 24-0 lead before Catholic hit a 37-yard field goal as the first half expired to break up the shutout. Justin Prinzivalli completed 14 of 19 passes for 168 yards and three touchdowns. Anthony Valdez ran the ball 18 times for 70 yards and a score. Jack Harrison caught six passes, including two for touchdowns, for 92 yards... The Diplomats had three first-half possessions start in Cardinal territory two weeks ago, converting all three into touchdowns... Franklin & Marshall enters the start of conference play with both the best scoring offense (35.7 ppg) and scoring defense (10.7) in the CC... Catholic's 17 points scored more than doubled the total allowed in the first two games (15)... Valdez leads the rushing attack with 43 rushes for 175 yards and three touchdowns... After Na'Rome Rayborn completed 15 of 21 passes for 135 yards in the opener, Prinzivalli has thrown for 337 yards over the last two games, completing 28 of 46 passes... Harrison has a team-high 12 receptions for 183 yards and three touchdowns... Nick Aravides leads the defense with 18 tackles, including 14 solo stops. He has a forced fumble, an interception and three pass break-ups... Austin Hadley has 14 tackles that includes 2.0 sacks and 5.5 tackles for loss... The Diplomat defense are allowing a conference-low 56.0 rushing yards per game, including holding Catholic to minus-6 yards rushing on 22 attempts. Five F&M sacks aided in the negative rushing day for the Cardinals with 42 negative yards... Ivan Harlamov is averaging 41.7 yards on 14 punts this season. He has dropped five punts inside the 20 with just two touchbacks. He has forced two fair catches and has boomed a pair 50-plus yards.
