NOTES

Series Muhlenberg holds a commanding 42-8-3 all-time series lead; the Mules' .821 winning percentage is their highest against any Centennial Conference opponent. Muhlenberg is 20-1-3 against McDaniel since 2002, with the lone Green Terror win coming in Westminster in 2019. McDaniel's last win in Allentown came in 2000. Last year, the two teams played to a 0-0 draw despite Muhlenberg playing the entire second half a man down.

Goals McDaniel is the top-scoring team in the Centennial Conference, averaging 2.36 goals per game. The Green Terror has been shut out only twice this season and has scored multiple goals eight times in 11 games.

"D" After giving up seven goals in their first three games, the Mules have conceded only six in their last seven with a defense that has started three freshmen. Luke Blenis was named CC defensive player of the week after Muhlenberg opened league play with a shutout of Franklin & Marshall, and Nico Famularo earned the honor after recording back-to-back clean sheets against Swarthmore and Ursinus last week.
