- OSU entered the 2022 Big Ten Championships with two wrestlers owning the No. 1 seed in their respective weight classes. Redshirt junior Sammy Sasso was seeded No. 1 at 149 as was redshirt sophomore Carson Kharchla at 165. Both entered postseason competition with 19-1 records. Sasso finished second while Kharchla finished in the No. 4 spot at his first Big Ten tournament.

- OSU finished second at the 2021 Cliff Keen Invitational in Las Vegas Dec. 3-4. The Buckeyes have six team titles since 2009 at the CKLVI including three-consecutive (2016, 17, 18). The Buckeyes have placed outside the Top 5 just once in the past decade and own 10 Top 3 finishes. Individually, Kaleb Romero took top honors in the 184-pound bracket in his first competition of the year.
- OSU cruised to a home 51-0 win over Notre Dame College Nov. 23. All 10 Buckeyes contributed bonus points in the win.

The OSU Black Shirts

All OSU wrestlers training inside the Jennings Wrestling Facility began wearing gray shirts in 2019-20. Only those individuals deserving of elite distinction will be bestowed a 'black shirt' and earn the privilege of wearing black in The Jennings. Once donning a black shirt, a student-athlete then joins the coaching staff in determining future 'black shirt worthy' teammates.
