MEET WEEK

OSU flips the switch to postseason with the Pac-12 Championships in West Valley City, Utah on Saturday, March 18 competing in the evening session at 5 p.m. PT. Oregon State took third at the 2022 Pac-12 Championships, after scoring their sixth 197 of the season.

BEAVS IN THE RANKINGS

The Beavs jumped two spots back to No. 11 in the week 10 poll, with a win over Utah at home on Senior Day. OSU ranks in the top five on beam (3rd) and floor (t-6th), while the vault group ranks 15th and bars sits at No. 18.

Jade Carey is first in the all-around by herself, holding the highest score in the country with an NQS of 39.820. The Olympic gold medalist on floor has three perfect scores to lead the country with a NQS of 9.985 this season.

Carey holds at second on vault with an NQS of 9.960, behind a pair of 10s this season.

Ranked third in the country as a team on beam, the Beavs have three of six gymnast ranked inside the top 30 in the country with Carey second, Sydney Gonzales tied for 16th and Madi Dagen tied for 33rd.

Carey stayed inside the top five on bars, with a NQS of 9.960, to rank tied for fourth in the country.

YOU GET A TIE AND YOU GET A TIE, EVERYBODY GETS A TIE

In her previous 25 years as the head coach of Oregon State, Tanya Chaplin, had been involved in just three ties. This season, her and the Beavs have two. The Pac-12 had not seen a tie in a regular season league dual since Feb. 23, 2020, then had ties in three consecutive weeks with two of the three involving OSU. In both ties with the Beavs, a late score inquiry resulted in the final team scores being identical.

IT'S LONELY AT THE TOP

With a pair of 10's for the third time this season, sophomore Jade Carey broke the school record with her ninth 10.000 of her career against Stanford, surpassing the previous record of eight perfect scores held by OSU great Chari Knight and now has 10 in her career.

SLAM THE DAM DOOR

Jade Carey became just the 13th NCAA gymnast to complete the Gym Slam with her first-career perfect score on beam at Arizona State. Carey's 10th perfect score of her career joined her in elite NCAA company as one of 13 total gymnasts and sixth Pac-12 gymnasts to record a 10.000 on vault, bars, beam and floor. She now has 89 event titles in her career, finishing first on bars, floor, beam and in the all-around on the day.

198 CLUB

For the first time in program history, Oregon State went over the coveted 198 mark, recording a program-record 198.075 against Stanford to break the previous school record of 197.850.

OSU joins elite company, with just 11 programs going over the 198 mark this year.

RAISING THE BAR

With routines coming from only freshmen and sophomore the last six weeks, the Oregon State bars squad continues to develop heading to the postseason, recording a season-high 49.550 against Utah. Three freshmen recorded career highs against the Utes with Jenn McMillan capturing her first event title with a 9.950, Ellie Weaver going 9.925 and Francesca Caso hit 9.900 for the first time in her career.

The 49.550 was the third-highest mark in program history and the highest score for the Beavs since recording a 49.525 back in 2003.

OREGON STATE BEAVERS BEAMERS

The Oregon State beam lineup hasn't seen a single change, as the group of Kiki Peterson, Jenna Domingo, Lauren Letzsch, Sydney Gonzales, Madi Dagen and Jade Carey have hit 65 of 66 routines this season.

OSU joined elite company as a unit on beam against ASU, becoming just the third program in NCAA history to go over 49.625 in three-straight meets with a 49.625, tying the second-best mark in school history.

The beam team has put together five of the highest scores in program history this year with the 49.650 at Stanford setting the program record, the 49.625s tying for second, the 49.550 against Utah standing alone at sixth all-time and the 49.525 at the Beaver Quad meet tying for seventh all-time.

FOUR FOR FOUR

En route to the highest score in program history at Stanford, Oregon State went four-for-four, recording season high scores on each event at the time. The 49.675 on floor was second only to the program record of 49.700 set in 2004, while the 49.650 on beam broke the school record set six days previous of 49.625. The Beavs took scores of 49.375 on bars and vault, with the bars score being the highest since 2020 and the vault score tying for seventh all-time, and marks the highest score since 2015.

BACK-TO-BACK

An Oregon State win over Utah created a four-way share of the regular season title between Oregon State, Cal, UCLA and Utah.

The Gym Beavs also won a share of the 2022 Pac-12 Regular Season Championship. This is the fourth season the conference has crowned a regular season champion, beginning the tradition in 2020.

ANYONE KNOW WHERE WE'RE GOING?

If the season ended today, OSU would head to Denver for the NCAA Regional round in a session with LSU and teams to be announced, while host Denver would take on Florida and teams to be announced.

With the conference championship still to go, the Beavs could finish the season ranked as high as No. 8 and as low as No. 13, with all four regional sites of Denver, Oklahoma, Pittsburgh and UCLA still on the table for OSU.

LUCKY No. 7

Oregon State has won the Pac-12 Championship on six occasions, with the most recent coming back in 2013, where the Beavs played host and scored a 197.850, en route to the title. Until this season, that mark held as the highest score in program history, with the Beavs besting the mark on two occasions in 2023.

LAST TIME AT PACS

Oregon State gymnastics took third at the 2022 Pac-12 Championships, after scoring its sixth 197 of the season.

Freshman Jade Carey posted a 39.725 in the all-around to earn the outright Pac-12 all-around title for Oregon State's first since Leslie Mak in 2011. Carey also claimed co-champion status on floor with a 9.95 and shared second on beam (9.95), bars (9.925) and vault (9.90) to conclude the historic night.

Senior Madi Dagen, who came into the night ranked No. 20 in the all-around, finished a career-best fourth in the championship with a 39.450.

Following the meet, Tanya Chaplin was also honored with her sixth conference Coach of the Year nod and first since 2011 during the award ceremony.

STARTING WITH OUR STRONG SUIT

No. 3 in the country on the event, OSU opens Pac-12s on beam, after No. 3 seed Cal elected to start on floor. OSU has started on beam one other time this season, at the Maverik Center earlier this year, where the Beavs posted a 49.325.

UP NEXT

OSU will find out its NCAA Regional destination on Monday, March 20 when the NCAA Selection Show airs at 9 a.m. PT on NCAA.com.
