NEW YEAR, NEW LEAGUE

A new era officially began as Utah Valley University Athletics becomes a full member of The Big West Conference on July 1, 2026.

The move marks one of the most significant milestones in Utah Valley's NCAA Division I history, positioning the Wolverines among one of the nation's premier mid-major conferences while opening a new chapter of competition, opportunity, and growth.

"Today is a historic day for Utah Valley University Athletics," said UVU Director of Athletics Dr. Jared Sumsion. "We are honored to officially join The Big West and begin building new rivalries, competing for championships, and representing Utah on one of the nation's premier mid-major stages. This move strengthens our future and creates incredible opportunities for our student-athletes, coaches, and fans."

Beginning with the 2026-27 academic year, Utah Valley will compete in 13 Big West-sponsored sports, including baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's outdoor track and field, and women's volleyball. UVU's wrestling program will continue to compete in the Big 12 Conference.

"The Big West has always embraced those willing to think bigger, compete harder and lead boldly. Utah Valley embodies that spirit," Big West Commissioner Dan Butterly said. "Their remarkable vision, passionate fan base and competitive success make them a perfect fit for The Big West. Today isn't simply about adding another member, it is about strengthening our shared commitment to excellence in academics, athletics and service to our communities. We are proud to welcome Utah Valley student-athletes, coaches, alumni and fans to The Big West family."

SETTING THE TONE

Utah Valley returns one of the biggest pieces to the 2026-27 roster with junior Cambree Blackham coming back to the facilite the offense for the Wolverines. This season, she will look to continue to climb the record books and help the Wolverines to their third straight postseason appearance.

BACK-TO-BACK

The Wolverines competed in the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT) for the second consecutive season last year. It marked the first in the Divison 1 era that the team had qualified for the postseason in back-to-back seasons and the third time under Nielson that they have particpated in a postseason. UVU won its first postseason game during the 2024-25 season with a victory over Air Force before falling in the second round in the final minute to Washington State.

Utah Valley's first NCAA Tournament appearance came in Nielson's second campaign where the team earned the Western Athletic Conference's (WAC) automatic bid. They traveled to San Antonio, Texas where they faced #1 Stanford, and fell to the Cardinal in the First Round.

NUVI PRACTICE FACILITY

In 2017, Utah Valley University cut down the nets to officially open the NUVI Basketball Center, a new practice and conditioning facility to house its men's and women's basketball teams.

The 14,500-square-foot facility was funded entirely by private donations and sponsorships totaling approximately $4.4 million, including a lead donation from NUVI chairman and CEO Keith Nellesen.

The NUVI Basketball Center includes 8,000 square feet of court space, named the Ryan Toolson Practice Court, and nine basketball standards. The new Travis Hansen Strength and Conditioning Center includes roughly 1,300 square feet, with custom-made 9-foot high racks, dumbbells up to 125 pounds and an array of power and conditioning tools. The room opens up directly onto the practice court

A mezzanine level overlooks the court and includes the Roger Fields Family Basketball Offices – 3,000 square feet of office space split into suites for the men's and women's coaching staff. Each suite features a large office for each head coach that can double as a conference room, and offices for three assistant coaches and basketball operations.
